

2023/24: Working when you live in a hostel, refuge or supported accommodation

This information is about people who are single, childless and fit-and-well.

Universal Credit includes help with rent, unless you live in supported accommodation or a hostel or refuge

In this accommodation you can claim Universal Credit for yourself and Housing Benefit for your rent.

The UC and HB systems are linked.

While you are getting Universal Credit, you automatically get Maximum Housing Benefit.

If you earn money, your Universal Credit is reduced by £0.55 for every pound that you earn, but so long as you still get some Universal Credit, you still get Maximum Housing Benefit.

If you earn too much to get Universal Credit, you get reduced Housing Benefit and you have to make a contribution to the rent.

The system is confused because Universal Credit is awarded by assessment periods of one calendar month but Housing Benefit is assessed on weekly rates.

Earnings Limits for Universal Credit

Aged 16-24

The monthly amount that you can earn and still get some Universal Credit and also Maximum HB is £531.09

In a four-pay-day month this equals £132.77 per week

In a five-pay-day month this equals £106.21 per week

Aged 25 – 65

The monthly amount that you can earn and still get some Universal Credit and also Maximum HB is £670.42

In a four-pay-day month this equals £167.60 per week

In a five-pay-day month this equals £134.08 per week

Weekly rent contribution if you do not get UC
Weekly take home pay	Your weekly contribution
	Aged under 25	Aged 25+
70	0.00	0
80	5.07	0
90	11.57	0.13
100	18.07	6.63
110	24.57	13.13
120	31.07	19.63
130	37.57	26.13
140	44.07	32.63
150	50.57	39.13
160	57.07	45.63
170	63.57	52.13
180	70.07	58.63
190	76.57	65.13
200	83.07	71.63
210	89.57	78.13
220	96.07	84.63
230	102.57	91.13
240	109.07	97.63
250	115.57	104.13
260	122.07	110.63
270	128.57	117.13
280	135.07	123.63
290	141.57	130.13
300	148.07	136.63
310	154.57	143.13
320	161.07	149.63
330	167.57	156.13
340	174.07	162.63
350	180.57	169.13
360	187.07	175.63
370	193.57	182.13
380	200.07	188.63
390	206.57	195.13
400	213.07	201.63

Extra rules apply to people who have children, or people whose illness or disability means that they have Limited Capability for Work.

There are different amounts for couples.